

A chestnut tree for Heidrun or who waters the flowers

“A chestnut tree for Heidrun or who waters the flowers” is an artistic exploration of the architecture of the Forum Stadtpark in Graz in 2021 by photographer Silvia Hödl. Cookie introduced the house and its staff to me. Somehow the focus in conversations kept falling on nature. At least that’s how I felt. As a zoologist, I am particularly interested in the term “nature”. Because what is actually natural about what we call nature?

Flowers, 2021, 60 x 40 cm